Katie Flynn's novels have sold over 5 million copies. Her first book, A Liverpool Lass, was published in 1993. Katie Flynn was the pseudonym of the author Judy Turner, who was inspired to write the novels after hearing family recollections of life in Liverpool during the early twentieth century. Judy sadly passed away in January 2019 at the age of eighty-two. The Katie Flynn legacy now lives on through her daughter Holly, who writes new books, often based on ideas she discussed with her mother.

Reflections

The Sunday Times bestselling book of life lessons from the superstar presenter

HOLLY WILLOUGHBY

A heartfelt, perceptive book about finding beauty, inside and out.

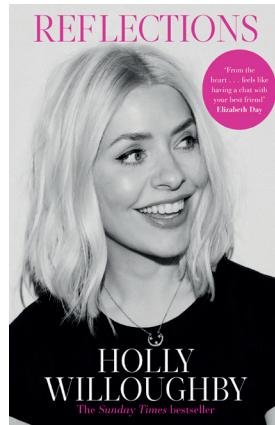

'We live in a world where so much is about how we present ourselves on the outside, and there is fun to be had here – but true beauty comes from within. There is an alignment that needs to happen and finding that balance hasn't always felt easy.'

Now, I'm finally at a point in my life where I can see a little more clearly. Writing is such a personal process and between these pages you will find many little pieces of me. I want to share my truths in the hope that maybe they'll help you too.'

Reflections explores what it means to live a beautiful life in the modern world. Here, for the first time, Holly Willoughby untangles topical and emotional issues such as body image, burnout and control, with candour, nuance and hard-won insight.

This book will start conversations, whether they're about how to find your signature lipstick, reclaim your sexuality, or treat yourself more kindly – and, ultimately, help you on your way to feeling beautiful, confident, complete.

Holly Willoughby is an award-winning television presenter and author. Having been a celebrated fixture on UK television for over sixteen years, she is best known for her work on ITV's flagship daytime show This Morning, where she has been a co-presenter since 2009, and Dancing on Ice. My Autobiography

KEVIN SINFIELD

The inspirational and life-affirming memoir from Rugby League's greatest player.

Kevin 'Sir Kev' Sinfield is one of the great Rugby League players: from 1997 to 2015, as an idol of the Leeds Rhinos' golden years and England captain, he won seven Grand Finals, two Challenge Cups and three World Cup Challenges, in 521 matches for his club. From 2003 he captained a side that exemplified the best of his sport.

Alongside him was a small but indomitable scrum-half, Rob Burrow. As Rob's health tragically declined, Kev set himself a series of increasingly difficult challenges to raise money and awareness for the disease that had affected his friend, winning the hearts of a nation in the process and an OBE from the Queen.

This is the memoir of one of rugby's icons, and one of the few individuals who has successfully crossed codes, now as defence coach for Premiership winners Leicester Tigers. It is also the story of an enduring friendship, of perseverance against the most difficult of challenges, and of a humble man who defied the odds.

ALYSSA WEES

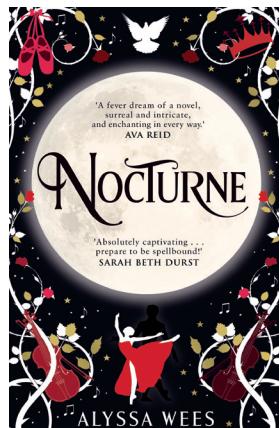

In this gorgeous and haunting fantasy set in 1930s Chicago, a talented ballerina finds herself torn between her dreams and her desires when she's pursued by a secretive patron who may be more than he seems.

Grace has always wanted to be a ballerina, ever since she first peered through the windows of the Near North Ballet company. The elegance of the dance seemed transcendent to an immigrant child of the working poor, and so, when she is orphaned, it is to the ballet that she flees.

Years later, Grace is on the verge of becoming the company's new prima ballerina – though she is beginning to realise that achieving her long-held dream may not be the triumph she once envisioned. Then Grace attracts the attention of the enigmatic Master La Rosa, and realises that the world may not be as small or constricted as she had come to fear.

But who is her mysterious patron, and what does he want from her? As Grace begins to unlock the Master's secrets, she discovers that there may be another way entirely to achieve the transcendence she has always sought.

Alyssa Wees grew up writing stories starring her Beanie Babies, in between training in ballet and watching lots of Disney movies. She earned a BA in English from Creighton University and an MFA in Fiction Writing from Columbia College Chicago. She lives outside of Chicago with her family.

House of Wolves

JAMES PATTERSON

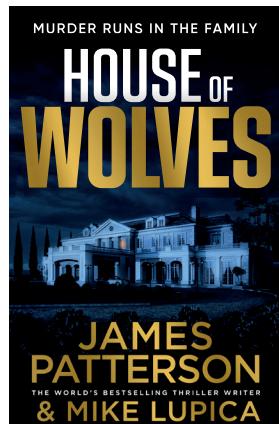

A high-stakes stand-alone thriller, with cut-throat family dynamics in a business empire at its core, and a power struggle that turns deadly.

The dynamics are simple in the Wolf family. They eat you if you let them.

Joe Wolf has raised three sons and one daughter using the same ruthless mentality that built his California business empire: Kill or be killed. So when he is found murdered on his yacht, adrift in San Francisco Bay, SFPD detective Ben Cantor knows exactly where to begin his investigation.

As the siblings vie for control of their father's vast power and assets, the detective pieces together the hierarchy of the 'pack of wolves'. All four have the means and the motive to commit murder.

Meanwhile, a more sinister player lurks in the shadows, one who knows the Wolfs' secrets better than Cantor ever will. And who wants them all dead.
